Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 4/5/2007 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

2. Claims 1, 3, 4, 7-9, 11, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Turnbull (Turnbull, Giles. "Free Software causes controversy". Irish News. September 10, 2001). Turnbull teaches an adware program that includes all of the limitations recited in the above claims.

Regarding claims 1, 3, 4, 7-9, and 11, Turnbull teaches designating member items and making them available over the Internet (Page 1, "It has been made available in software packages"), downloading a member item to a computer (Page 1, "a lot of people install Gator without even realizing it”), identifying subject matter of a webpage being viewed by the computer (Page 1, monitor your browser, watching what websites you visit), providing advertising based on that subject matter (Page 1, “places one of its own in a pop-up window”), and discontinuing delivery if no member item remains in the computer (Page 2, “if people are upset by it, there is a simple way to delete this software from the computer”).

Regarding claim 13, Turnbull teaches delivering advertising from a competitor of a company who’s content is on a webpage being viewed (Page 1, “one bookseller might be able to place one of Gator’s special popup adverts over the website of a rival bookseller”).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 5 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Turnbull (Turnbull, Giles. “Free Software causes controversy”. Irish News. September 10, 2001) in view of Fuller (U.S. Patent No. 6,216,112).

Regarding claims 5 and 10, Turnbull does not appear to specify storing a list of member items in the computer. Fuller teaches a file list of Adware programs. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make a list of Gator programs to ensure proper installation logs and documentation.
